

Make Thomson's Inventory-In-Place Program Work for You...

Realize significant savings by using Thomson Learning's Inventory-In-Place program, which includes titles from the following Thomson Learning imprints:

Inventory-in-Place is an excellent way for stores to maintain or improve Service Plus program status by minimizing returns.

No stock may be held beyond its last date to return.

Find new editions for titles in your store, along with the last dates to return old editions—or check your Service Plus program status—on your personalized “My Service Plus” homepage! Just visit <http://serviceplus.thomsonlearning.com>.

How can you take advantage of this program?

- ▷ After fall rush, identify the unsold stock that you anticipate using in the next term.
- ▷ Instead of returning these books to us, simply supply us with a list of titles to be held (including quantity, author, title, edition, ISBN, and corresponding invoice number).
- ▷ Send this list along with your October payment. From your October payment, subtract the value of the books you will be holding
- ▷ The due date for the amount deducted on eligible stock will be extended to February 1, 2006.

The fine print:

- ▷ In order to participate, all of your Thomson Learning invoices billed June 1st through September 1st must be paid in full by October 1st.*
- ▷ Only books purchased from Thomson Learning between June 1st and September 30th, 2005, are eligible for the Inventory-in-Place program
- ▷ The amount of goods held will apply towards a store's credit limit.
- ▷ We reserve the right to audit inventory held.
- ▷ Failure to pay the deferred amount according to stated terms (by February 1, 2006), or any other abuse of the program, will result in exclusion from future Inventory-in-Place participation.
- ▷ As this program affects only payment terms, the store maintains ownership of and any liability related to the stock in question.
